To Our Patrons:

THIS Indispensable Volume was Originally Prepared with a View to Enabling the Visitor to Washington to Saunter Safely through the Mazes of a Mystifying Metropolis. The Aim of the Compilers has been Picturesque Conciseness without Sacrificing Consistency of Plot. It Has Been their Wish to Preserve the Traditions of a Capital Noted for the Variety of its Monuments, the Antiquity of its Office Holders and the Strenuous Adherence of its Ruling Classes to Spectacular Civil Service Reform.

The Illustrations have been Supplied by Eminent Artists, who have Felt that Visitors would Value an Intelligent Interpretation of the True Significance of the Objects and Scenes Depicted Rather than a Slavish Subservience to Photographic Accuracy.

The Special Panama Edition is Designed to Meet the demand from American Officials Temporarily Resident on The Isthmus Pending their Removal and Return.

We Unreservedly Recommend a Perusal of Our Advertising pages. No Advertisement has been Admitted which cannot Conscientiously be Classified Either as Wholesome or as Profitable. No Patent Medicines Can secure our Endorsement which have not Paid Liberally for it and no Intoxicating Liquors which we have not Thoroughly Tested.

Gridiron Guide to Washington

The Capitol

Let us start at the Capitol.

This Building, the Mecca of Rural Statesmen, is Mainly Noted for its Lobbies, which are of Generous Proportions. When Originally Constructed, it was Expected to Occupy a Prominent Place in Public Affairs. Of late years, it has been Dwarfed by Comparison with the White House. Somewhere within the Classic Outlines of the Majestic Marble Building is a Deliberate Body, which Imagines it is Entrusted with the Awful Duty of Making Laws to Govern the People of the United States. You will Find it at the Butt End of Uncle Joe Cannon's Cigar.

Rules of Etiquette

AS WASHINGTON Yearly Becomes More and More Like a European Court, Rules of Etiquette are Rigidly Observed.

The Recognized Order of Precedence is:

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,

THE VICE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,
(When Ambassadors do not Object)

AMBASSADORS,
(When the Supreme Court does not Object)

THE CABINET,
(When Senators do not Object)

CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT,
(When he is Willing)

THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE,
(When Associate Justices of the Supreme Court do not Object)

ASSOCIATE JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT,
(When Senators do not Object)

BAILIFFS OF THE LOCAL COURTS,

SENATORS,

REPRESENTATIVES,
(Who never Object)

ARMY AND NAVY OFFICERS,
(Marine Corps not Recognized)

THE PUBLIC,
(Which is Helpless)

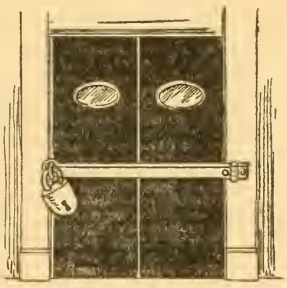
Vice President's Room.—The Ceiling of this Room is Remarkable for its Great Height. It is Contiguous to the President's Room. This is Regarded in Some Quarters as an Architectural Blunder.

The Senate Chamber is The Assembly Room of the Finest Club on Earth. The Deliberations of the Senate are Public, Except when the Doors are Closed for Executive Session. Then they are Published.

There is no more Instructive Sight in Washington than when Senator Morgan is making a speech on the San Domingo Treaty. You can't see Morgan because the Doors are Shut and Locked. You can't see the other Senators because they are not There.



Senate Chamber.

Every Visitor to Washington, including Insurgent Representatives, should see the Speaker's Room. The Speaker is the Original E Pluribus Unum. He is 386 Representatives in One. His Room is Adorned with a Clock and a Secretary.

Pennsylvania Avenue was Intended Originally to Separate Congress from the Executive. Modern Improvements including the Telephone, and Senators Lodge and Knox, have Nullified this Intention.

The President ranks as King. The Vice President, however, is not Heir Apparent. Invitations from the President are Commands. His Criticisms of all Matters, Public and Private, must be Respected. Newspaper Correspondents Study his Wishes and are Guided by them.

The Lower Classes make the first Call upon Those Above them. This Rule is Rigidly Enforced. The Secretary of the Treasury for Example is Expected to Call upon Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan.

Full Dress is Required at Dinners. Steel-pen Coats and Decollete Gowns May be Hired at Low Rates. See our Advertising Pages.

Congressmen with families will Refrain from Taking Cake and Fruit Home to the Children.

Wines should be Judiciously Used. At the Better Class Tables Each Guest is Allowed no More than a Magnum of Champagne. It is Bad Form to Request the Waiter to Leave the Bottle at your Plate.

Spoons for Soup, Forks for Fish, and Knives for Cutting Only are now de rigeur.

Picking One's Teeth with a Fork at the Table Without Shielding the Mouth with the Hand or the Napkin Should be Avoided if Possible.

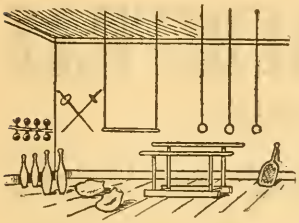
Visitors Accustomed to Tying Napkins about their Necks while at Dinner Should Use the Modern Detachable Elastic Invented for that Purpose. See our Advertising Columns.

Napkins or Spoons are not to be Taken from the Table. They may have been Hired for the Occasion.

Hunting is Prohibited in the Zoological Gardens (Our Bears must be Protected).

Loaded Revolvers Strapped to the Hip are Permitted only to Private Secretaries.

Members of the Cabinet are on View every Tuesday and Friday. They must not be Spoken to Without Written Permission.



The White House

The White House—This is a School for the Education of Senators and Representatives as to their Duty to their Country. The Head-Master is Prof. T. Roosevelt, A.B., A. M., LL.D., Litt. D. (Harvard, 1880). There is a Gymnasium Connected with the Institution. The Motto is—

"Bit First and Frequent."

Immediately Adjoining the White House is The Department of State, the workshop of a Man who would rather Serve his Country at $8,000, or $50,000 per, than the Corporations for $250,000.

Department of State.

The Treasury.

The Treasury is a Kindergarten for Bank Presidents, but not for Presidents of the United States. Many a Secretary of the Treasury has Tried it, but None ever Got There !

Cosmos Club.—Formerly the Residence of Mrs. Madison. It Has an Insomnia Cure Annex. Many Notable Scientific Men Sleep in this House.

Opposite the Cosmos Club is the office of Henry Gassaway Davis, who is Unique in Washington for Never Having been in Politics.

HON. JOHN T. MORGAN,

Dear Sir:—

I have been addicted for over 30 years to the unfortunate Sitting Habit. Fearing that it might become Chronic I had tried Cummins's Capsules, Shaw's Specific and other recognized remedies without Appreciable Relief. Finally it was suggested to me to try one of your speeches. In Despair I did so. At the first test I found it impossible to Remain in My Seat and Have Had no Desire to Occupy it Since While You had the Floor.

Yours Gratefully,

WILLIAM B. ALLISON.
